

Tonight's meeting was the Geneva-Excelsior Lions Annual Father and Daughter Night. Also invited were granddaughter's niece's, and other female relatives or friends.

The meeting was called to order by President Joe Farrah. The Salute to the Flag was led by Lion Mike Castagnetto and the Invocation by Lion Ozzie Buoncristiani. Introductions of Lion and guests followed. Extra tables were added in the meeting room to accommodate Lions and guests.

Correspondence and Reports:

A letter was received from a Lion family in Cannes, France asking for a family in our area to take in to their home a visiting girl age 16, and a boy age 17. A reciprocal arrangement in France is offered for the summer of 1980. Contact Secretary Handford Clews if interested.

A Thank You card was received by the club from Linie Faina.

The Mystery Trip scheduled for April 21-22, will be by private autos instead of a bus. Lion Ozzie let us know the destination is Auburn, CA., to attend the Auburn Lions Costume Dinner Dance. The next morning breakfast will be hosted by the Al Klienbach's. Contact Lion Ozzie if interested.

Cadillac Raffle Committee will meet Monday, April 16, reported Lion Bill Tonelli.

Lion Ron Faina reported one of the Sea Scout boats we help sponsor will be turned over to another Sea Scout group.

PROGRAM: This evening's program was a magic show performed by Joe Fraher, age 16 and a student at St. Ignatius High. Joe is the son of Rose Fraher, a good friend and supporter of our club, and Joe's father was Phil Fraher, a Past President of the G-E Lions. Joe's performance was outstanding. The youngest and oldest of those in attendance seemed to enjoy it very much. We understand Lion Galdo Pavini is responsible for arranging this program.

SMILE. The small boy in church with his parents noticed a white flag with gold stars on it. "What's that, daddy?" he asked.

"A reminder of all those who died in service," his father whispered.

The youngster thought a moment, then asked in a loud whisper, "Daddy, did they die in the 9:30 or the 11 o'clock service?"
