

In view of the fact the first game of the World Series was being played, there was a good turnout for the meeting. Lion Mike Castagnetto lead in the Pledge of Allegiance, and Lion Pat Martin gave the invocation. Visiting Lions from the Burlingame L.C. were President Albert J. Leyva, Jr., Bob Lundquist and Pete Campanile. Another visiting Lion was former G.-E. Secretary Harvey Bustichi. Lion Harvey extended a warm invitation to the G.-E. Lions to visit his club in Scotts Valley, which meets at 7 A.M. Can it be arranged, Lion Ozzie?

COMMITTEE REPORTS: Cadillac Raffle Ch'mn. Giulio Francesconi reported he has cash in hand for 187 sold tickets. He continued, "the raffle will be a sellout."

White Cane Day Ch'mn. Al Gentile was absent. White Cane collection receptacles were turned in at the meeting, and reports of working Lions were read. Lion Carl Muehlendorf toured the Portola District and collected $61.70. Lion Al Gentile collected $44.90 at his downtown station. Only two Lions worked the Excelsior location. A complete report will be forthcoming. The club is indeed grateful to Lorraine Castagnetto who addressed, folded, stuffed, stamped and sealed 125 letters of solicitation for White Cane Days.

Lion Chas. Bottarini distributed tickets for the upcoming "Hors d'Oeuvres Extravaganza." An initial distribution of six tickets will be put in the hands of each member in the club.

A brief special Board Meeting was held following the regular meeting. The Board authorized the purchase of ten tickets for International Night. The Board also agreed to the club subsidizing half of the cost of attending this event by raising money through raffles at meetings.

RAFFLE

1st Prize--A quart of Ancient Age won by Ted Zagorewicz, who donated it back to the club.

2nd Prize--A bottle of wine won by Mike Perri, who donated it back to the club.

Mystery Raffle--$5, J. Ennis, absent.

Club members receiving a questionnaire with this bulletin are asked to take about three minutes to complete same and return it to your president.

Lion Ron Faina not only sells chicken well, he barbecues it well too. He, Linnie, his family and friends attended the district's picnic at Marine World on Sunday, Oct. 7th. They had enough chicken and fixins to host many extras. One other couple from this club showed up to partake of the goodies. About a total of 280 from the district were in attendance.

HERE and THERE: Lion Handford Clews and Margot are on a two week vacation including a cruise up the Mississippi. If any of those legendary river boat gamblers are still plying their trade, they will meet their match in Lion Handford.

Lion Bill Tonelli is visiting the Big Apple on pharmaceutical business. Former member John Crowley and his wife are returning to the Bay Area on Oct. 15th after living in Scotland for two years.

Many Lions have worked hard on the Paper Drive, but the club wishes to recognize the consistent effort Lion Fred Krahl has made in transferring paper from the shed to the container and keeping the lot debris free. He has been on the job every week since the project began.

GIFT AS BIG AS BIG AS ALL OUTDOORS

The Winston-Salem, North Carolina, Host Lions Club gave the great outdoors to area blind and visually impaired persons when it dedicated a nature trail at Tanglewood Park in June.

The trail, specifically built so the blind may walk around, touch nature and hear its sounds, was made possible by $1,100 donated by the Lions for materials used in construction. Club members also assisted in clearing the land and cutting wood for the guide fences that line the trail.

The Club hopes to expand the nature trail to include audio stations and longer trail routes.

Adolescence is a period of rapid changes. Between the ages of 12 and 17, for example, a parent ages as much as 20 years.

Some tasks have to be put off dozens of times before they'll slip your mind completely.
